Goal

Remind the group that Sovereign Citizens is one of the MCJA mandatory training topics for calendar year 2012. The material covered will be addressed towards the patrol officer who will probably be the first individual of authority to make contact with a member of the Sovereign Citizen movement. The basic belief of the Sovereign Citizen is that our government is 'illegal' and they will not respect or adhere to any laws or authority figures, specifically law enforcement officers, judges, taxing agencies, and politically elected officials. The Sovereign Citizens see these individuals as mere agents of a fraudulent and oppressive government.

Efficiency of Internet to spread radical ideas Cyclical Anytime the economy is down, you see a resurgence of people blaming the government for what goes wrong. IV. Sovereign Citizen Beliefs <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. An individual is a government unto himself</li><li>2. No government can control an individual without that person's direct permission.</li><li>3. A person has a right to reside in country, yet not be under control of the government.</li><li>4. Income tax is illegal</li><li>5. The county is the highest form of government</li><li>6. The Sheriff is the only law enforcement recognized since he is elected by the people.</li></ol> When a belief system motivates its members to commit violent acts, it becomes a law enforcement problem. The majority of Sovereign Citizens (estimated at 97%) are not dangerous however the other 3 % can be VERY violent. They see violence as the only way to bring about the change they believe in. They disconnect from government, they are frustrated with the government not looking out for their best interest and are frustrated with figures of authority. They live and believe this day after day and begin to think – if a law enforcement officer stops me today- today may be the day I'll kill him. Do NOT underestimate these individuals. They will kill or be killed for what they believe! V. Threats to Law Enforcement Physical threats Since 1990, 51 law enforcement officers have been killed in 38 incidents in which at least one of the suspects was a right-wing criminal extremist. 95% of 38 officer incidents since 1990 involved local or state law enforcement	1.12.4

at a minimum one handgun and one edge weapon. Sovereign citizens are often confused with extremists from the militia movement. But while some sovereign citizens sometimes use or buy weapons, guns are secondary to their anti-government, anti-tax beliefs. On the other hand, guns and paramilitary training are paramount to militia groups. Backup If you suspect that the vehicle you are about to stop may be operated by a sovereign citizen- CALL FOR BACKUP! Do not stop the suspect vehicle until backup is on scene. The backup officer should be positioned at a tactically correct position with long gun at the ready. X. Tactics that may indicate affiliation as a Sovereign Citizen at a Traffic Stop: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. May roll down their window just enough to be heard</li> <li>2. May refuse to cooperate and exercise right to remain silent</li> <li>3. When asked for driver's license may ask is that a request or a demand.</li> <li>4. May provide strange responses to law enforcement questions that do not make sense. Example, when asked to present a license, they may reply, "no, not personally."</li> <li>5. May claim not to have a driver's license, and may present a homemade form of ID.</li> <li>6. May claim that it is unconstitutional to require individuals to have a driver's license and obey traffic laws.</li> <li>7. If an official state driver's license is presented, they may claim that the person in the picture is not them. They may further claim that the person in the picture is not human, but a non-breathing extraterrestrial.</li> <li>8. If asked to provide a Social Security number for identification, they may claim that the request is an invasion of their privacy and/or a violation of their rights.</li> <li>9. When signing law enforcement documents, they may write "under duress" beneath their signatures or cite various</li> </ol>	1.12.10 Even a 'minor' traffic stop challenges the ideology of the Sovereigns and can escalate to a violent encounter. 1.12.11

3. Lawsuits Sovereign citizens may file lawsuits against law enforcement or members of the court in their individual capacity seeking civil remedies for alleged violations of their constitutional rights. 4. Currency Transaction Reports (CTR) Used legitimately by financial institutions in an effort to combat money laundering, sovereigns may improperly use FinCEN form 104 to report a target to trigger an investigation. XV. Impersonating Law Enforcement Officers Two Sovereign Citizen groups, the Civil Rights Task Force and the Constitution Rangers have created fictitious law enforcement agencies complete with fake identification cards, badges, and even raid jackets. The ability to custom order badges and uniforms through mail-order catalogs and on-line make this process very easy. Other names found on badges/fake ID cards: <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. "Investigator – Civil Rights Task Force"</li><li>2. "Agent – Civil Rights Task Police"</li><li>3. "Special United States Marshals"</li><li>4. "Sovereign Citizen World Guard"</li><li>5. "Sovereign Cop Watch."</li></ol> Both the badges and identification cards appear very authentic looking and may intimidate someone not familiar with these groups. Members of the Civil Rights Task Force have advocated what they term "reverse intimidation," interrogating the spouses of law enforcement officers who have had dealings with the group's members.	1.12.17

XVI. Protecting Yourself and Your Family As law enforcement conducts surveillance of extremists groups, so too do members of these anti-government groups conduct counter-surveillance. The following may minimize your exposure to this activity: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. If you wear a uniform to/from work, cover with a jacket/shirt</li> <li>2. Be aware of your surroundings at ALL times</li> <li>3. Be mindful that you may be photographed/videotaped entering/exiting the station, entering/exiting your cruiser, and while on duty</li> <li>4. Remind family members NEVER to accept a badge as identification of law enforcement. If something doesn't seem right, its probably not!</li> <li>5. Check frequently with County Clerk to determine if a false lien may have been filed against your property especially if you have had a bad encounter with a Sovereign</li> <li>6. Act professionally and ethically at all times</li> <li>7 Minimize self-exposure on social media sites</li> <li>8. Check your free credit reports annually for accuracy.</li> </ol> XVII. XVIII. Conclusion Although the Sovereign Citizen movement does not always rise to violence, its members' illegal activities and past violence – including fatal incidents against law enforcement make it a group that should be approached with knowledge and caution. It is important that law enforcement be aware of sovereign citizens' tactics, scams and other illegal activity and understand its potential severity, and be prepared for and against violent behavior or backlash through intimidation and harassment. With high unemployment, foreclosures of homes, the high cost of fuel and the growing consensus that the government is doing nothing to help, membership in the sovereign citizen movement is growing. The preparedness of law enforcement should be not IF I encounter a sovereign citizen but WHEN I encounter a sovereign citizen will I be prepared?
